What is Model United Nations

- Model United Nations (MUN) is a simulation of the United Nations.

Conclusion

By researching and analyzing the issues in our countries, we were able to identify the core of the problems and find solutions. And to solve such problems, it is important to understand each other's national situation and respect the differences.

We will strive to develop the ability to interact with others, understanding their positions and our own. Since it is possible to improve these skills through Q&A and discussion, it would be better to lengthen the discussion in the next MUN.
